CIRCULATOR OF
KIEL RECALL LISTS
BEATEN ON STREET

Theodore J. Wolfley, Former Legislator, Tells of Attack at Garrison and Washington Tuesday Night.

HAD BEEN WORKING
IN G. O. P. STRONGHOLD

Lives in Precinct in Which Many Signers Have Been Obtained; Says Young Man Broke His Jaw.

Theodore J. Wolfley, 56 years old, of 2948 Washington avenue, former member of the State Legislature, was waylaid on the street by a thug and beaten and seriously injured Tuesday night, following his successful circulation of petitions for Mayor Kiel's recall in his home precinct, where he has lived 15 years.

A news article in the Post-Dispatch Monday told how the names of 300 voters had been signed to the petitions in this precinct, the Ninth of the Seventeenth Ward, a Republican stronghold.

Wolfley is a Republican, but is regarded by party ward leaders as an "insurgent" because he has long been opposed to the Kiel administration and to William C. McChesney, Alderman, and to Frank M. Slater, the ward's representative on the City Committee.

Wolfley's name was not mentioned in the Post-Dispatch account, but it was generally known to politicians that it was he who had the petitions circulated. Speaking with great difficulty because of his jaw, Wolfley today said he believed his activity in behalf of the recall of Mayor Kiel because of the United Railways agreement was the reason for his being attacked.

He was returning to his home from E. B. Whitworth's grocery at 2947 Washington avenue, across the street from his residence, at 8 p. m. Tuesday, and was standing at Garrison and Washington avenues, waiting for a street car to round a curve.

A young man also was standing on the corner. Without warning, Wolfley said, this man struck him on the jaw, knocking him down. Wolfley said he rolled into the street and came dangerously near being run over by the passing street car. He was on the track at that point being only a few feet from the curb.

After striking Wolfley the young man ran west on Washington avenue and according to Wolfley he joined three or four other men who had been standing under a tree about 20 feet west of Garrison avenue. Wolfley described the assailant as being of stocky build and about 21 years old. He wore either a blue flannel shirt or sweater and a dark cap. The attack was not reported to the police.

There is a basement saloon on the corner where Wolfley was attacked. Mrs. Myrtle Felen of 616 North Garrison avenue went to Wolfley's assistance and assisted him to his home, where a doctor found his jaw broken. He was taken to the St. Louis Baptist Hospital, Garrison and Franklin avenues, where his injuries called for the services of a surgeon and a dentist. He is now at home with his jaw in a plaster cast and has been unable to go to his real estate office in the Central National Bank Building.

Persons in the neighborhood said that 30 or 40 minutes before the assault a man who visited Whitworth's store was heard to say: "We'll get that fellow Wolfley before tomorrow night."

RECEIVER AUTHORIZED TO SUE
CLUB MEMBERS FOR BACK DUES

C. W. S. Cobb, receiver for the Mercantile Club, Seventh and Locust streets, was authorized today by Circuit Judge Kimmel to institute suits against members who are in arrears in their dues and who owe for supplies furnished by the club and an assessment of $20 levied last September. Lee W. Grant, attorney for the receiver, estimated that $25,000 is due the club from members.

Judge Kimmel also authorized Receiver Cobb to sell the club's stock of liquors and cigars on hand, but stipulated that at least 10 per cent of the value must be retained for the club. The club went into the hands of a receiver several months ago, and an attempt was made to continue its operations. The doctor found his jaw broken. He was taken to the St. Louis Baptist Hospital, Garrison and Franklin avenues, where his injuries called for the services of a surgeon and a dentist. He is now at home with his jaw in a plaster cast and has been unable to go to his real estate office in the Central National Bank Building.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Major-General Enoch H. Crowder, Judge Advocate General of the Army, was nominated today by President Wilson to succeed himself for another term of four years beginning Feb. 15, 1919, with rank as Major-General from Oct. 6, 1917.

Plan for Civic League to Check Up the Audit of U. R.

THE Ways and Means Committee of the Civic League, at a meeting today, will consider requesting the State Public Service Commission to allow League representatives to participate in the auditing of the United Railways books, which is now underway.

"The committee is considering this action in order to forestall a possible superficial audit and capitalization, with a consequent additional increase in fare," said Secretary Budenz of the league. "The United Railways Co., is now seeking to have the fare increased, even as high as 10 cents under the zone system."

"The State Public Service Commission has hitherto shown a tendency rather to protect the company's inflation than to scale down the rates for fares. The Mayor's deal with the United Railways Co. gives an excuse for an increased fare, as President McCulloch himself has pointed out."

1000 SIGN PETITIONS
AT KIEL RECALL OFFICE

Nils Grant, president of the Citizens' Referendum League, said today that nearly 1000 signatures were obtained yesterday at the newly opened downtown office, 520 Pine street, to the petitions for an election to the recall of Mayor Kiel for his mill tax and franchise deal with the United Railways Co. The office is open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

Fourteen men signed the petitions in the first 45 minutes after the opening of the place this morning. A large sign displayed outside reads: "Recall Mayor Kiel. Sign Petitions Here." A display of cartoons from the Post-Dispatch and other papers was being prepared today.

The Civic League, it was announced today, has begun the canvass of factories and other group meeting places, by canvassers in automobiles. Secretary Budenz said the progress in obtaining signatures thus far had been "very favorable," and that the result of the canvass would be announced Saturday night. He estimates that 1600 petition blanks are now out, some of the canvassers working most of the day, and some only in the evening.

Engineering Societies Indorse Kiel's U. R. Deal.

The Associated Engineering Societies, meeting last night at 2815 Olive street, by a vote of 53 to 17 adopted a resolution indorsing Mayor Kiel's action "in the matter of the adjustment of the mill tax controversy and the extension of the Jefferson avenue franchise."

After a meeting of the Garfield School Patrons' Association last night, secretary H. E. Teibhorst announced that Mayor Kiel's settlement with United Railways had been indorsed.

100 ALIENS IN
ST. LOUIS DISTRICT
MAY BE DEPORTED

That Number in Custody of
Under Surveillance, Immigration Inspector Here Announces.

4 OF FORT WORTH
I. W. W. IN JAIL HERE

Expulsion of Undesirables in
This Section Was Begun
Last Week and Eight Were Sent East.

About 100 undesirable aliens in the St. Louis district of the Federal immigration office, comprising Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Iowa and Nebraska, are in custody or under surveillance, preparatory to their deportation from the United States, according to James R. Dunn, inspector in charge of the immigration service here.

Four alien men, charged with criminal offenses against Federal laws for the protection of public morals, were brought to St. Louis from Fort Worth, Tex., on a train arriving at noon today, were placed in the city jail and will leave for New York tonight, to be placed on Ellis Island for deportation.

Most of the I. W. W. and anarchists sent from Ft. Worth for deportation came from the Pacific Coast.

Alice, Cornish, 22 years old, of London, who has been in this country since 1913, and who was arrested in Des Moines, Ia., on a charge of immoral conduct, and sent here for deportation, will be sent out tonight.

Because of the war and the interruption of passenger shipping business, undesirable aliens have accumulated in this country. The expulsion of undesirables from the St. Louis district began last week, when eight men, three of them anarchists with I. W. W. connections, were sent to Ellis Island.

The alien act of the Government, which provides for the deportation of undesirable persons who have shown themselves unfit for citizenship, will be rigidly enforced in this district, Dunn said, and now that sea travel is unobstructed, there will be a great forced exodus of this element.

The Federal law on deportation, enacted about a year ago, provides for the expulsion of all persons convicted of crimes within five years of their arrival in the United States, with the exception of those who are in this country as sufficient cause for deportation. Any persons so convicted since that law went into effect, Dunn pointed out, will be subject to deportation at the expiration of their sentences.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—The American policy in Russia was the subject of another warm debate today in the Senate. It will require a majority vote for further consideration.

Pennsylvania Train Wrecked
ON RIVER EMBANKMENT

By the Associated Press. PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 13.—The Pittsburgh and Buffalo Express, northbound, on the Allegheny Valley division of the Pennsylvania Railroad, was wrecked at noon, at St. George, 20 miles south of here.

Early reports said the entire train had gone over an embankment into the Allegheny River, but a statement issued by the company declared only one car left the rails.

SUN TODAY LOOKED AS IF IT HAD HAD A VERY BAD NIGHT

The sun got up with a black eye and looking extremely pale this morning. The condition of the sometimes glorious orb of day was so apparent that it attracted much attention. In appearance it was more like its understudy, the full moon, than like a top-liner luminary. It made only a feeble effort to shine, though there were no clouds to obscure it.

A large black spot which seemed to call for the immediate application of a raw beefsteak was where the sun's right eye would have been if that feature had been visible. Just below this was a smaller discoloration as though a second blow had landed on the solar countenance.

The condition of the sun was viewed with concern bordering on apprehension by many St. Louisans, judging from the large number of telephone calls to the Post-Dispatch, asking what was the matter with the world's leading light.

The Rev. Father Martin S. Brennan, of Holy Cross, said the sun spot had been under observation by astronomers for several days and that its visibility to the ordinary observer today was due to the peculiarly hazy atmospheric condition which made the sun stand out as a white disk, thus bringing the spot into bold relief. The haze prevented the sun from dazzling the eyes.

The sun spot, Father Brennan said, would have little effect on the weather, though it had been noted that rain usually followed the appearance of large spots. They also sometimes caused difficulty in the operation of telegraph and telephone lines because of their effect on the earth's magnetism, he said.

No such wire trouble was reported today.

KIEL TO SUPPORT ALOE FOR
HEAD OF ALDERMEN AGAIN

Mayor Says Differences Over U. R. Deal Will Not Break Friendship.

Mayor Kiel was asked by a Post-Dispatch reporter today whether he will support Louis P. Aloe for reelection as President of the Board of Aldermen. He said:

"Yes, I will. I have always been a friend of Aloe, and because there has been a disagreement between us over the United Railways matter is no reason why I shouldn't support him."

He was asked if the issue in the spring election would not probably be whether the United Railways deal was good or bad for the city. He answered:

"I don't know. Probably it will." The question of the Mayor's attitude toward Aloe came up again through the regulation by Aloe of the Mayor's deal with the United Railways Co.

Bohm said, however, that the plans for the threatened strike would be canceled if light wines and beer were held to be non-toxicating and therefore not within the scope of the Federal prohibition amendment.

Psychopathic Ward.

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—Joseph S. Kendall of St. Louis, president of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co., died at 6 a. m. today in Bellevue Hospital, where he was taken for observation Sunday night, after he had given sums of money to uniformed employees of Ritz-Carlton Hotel, where he was staying.

At the hospital it was said he died of broncho-pneumonia, after a four days' illness from influenza. He was 34 years old, and leaves, besides his mother, a widow and three children.

Kendall's father was a number of years was Superintendent of Public Instruction in Texas. The son, who formerly lived at Dallas, Tex., and who only recently had been elected head of the insurance company, had come here to confer with financiers regarding expansion plans. He leaves an estate valued at $750,000.

The body will be sent to Dallas tomorrow on a special car.

Ward of Hospital Taken to Psychopathic Ward of Bellevue Hospital when attention was directed to his apparently abnormal condition by a tip he was freely distributing among waiters, uniformed soldiers, sailors, messengers and bellboys. It was reported that he had a large roll of bills and rewarded every little attention with $10. The estimates of his gifts within a few hours ranged from several hundred to about $2000.

Kendall and his wife had been living at the Pennsylvania Hotel for more than a week, but had removed Saturday night to the Ritz-Carlton. It was said by a clerk at the Pennsylvania that he was "all right" while there.

An official of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. told a Post-Dispatch reporter Monday that he had heard of Kendall's eccentric behavior in New York, but couldn't understand it, as Kendall was apparently in good health and had no immoderate habits.

The following day, Tuesday, this same official said he had called Kendall at New York on long-distance telephone and had conversed with him. He said Kendall was "all right now" and would return to St. Louis within a few days.

Kendall was elected president of the Missouri State Life Insurance Co. last September, following a contest of Texas and Missouri interests for control of the company. His election received the unanimous indorsement of the board of directors. He formerly had been an investment banker at Dallas, Tex.

Kendall is survived by his wife, three children, Joseph, 11; Billie, 9; and Janet, 6, and his mother, Mrs. Joseph S. Kendall.

Revolt in Rumania; King Is Wounded

Workers Fire on Palace When Royal Family Tries to Flee—Demand for Republic.

By the Associated Press. BERLIN, Wednesday, Feb. 13.—A general insurrection is in progress throughout Rumania, according to a special dispatch from Vienna. King Ferdinand has been wounded slightly in attempting to flee from Bucharest with the royal family.

Workingmen blocked the roadway from the royal palace when the royal family attempted to flee to Jassy and the King and his family were forced to return. The King was wounded when the workers, according to the report, fired upon the royal palace.

Rioters in the streets of Bucharest are openly demanding the overthrow of the dynasty, crying: "Down with the puppets! Long live the republic!"

A Budapest newspaper learns that the revolt is part of a Bolshevik propaganda. In a clash between the military and demonstrators at Bakost 60 persons were killed and 150 wounded.

The discipline of the Rumanian army, the newspaper adds, is collapsing. The food and economic situation is rapidly growing worse and the country's finances are completely demoralized.

The position of the Bratiano cabinet is declared to be untenable.

NATIONS LEAGUE
DRAFT EXPECTED TO BE DECIDED ON
FINALLY TODAY

President's Commission Meets to Finish Work and Delegates Hope Plan May Be Ready for Full Session of Peace Conference Tomorrow.

WILSON PLANNING TO SAIL SATURDAY

President Also Definitely Says He Will Return to France in March—Favors Great Celebration on Conclusion of Peace.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, Feb. 13.—The Commission on the Society of Nations resumed its session at 10:30 o'clock this morning with a full attendance of the members to receive the report of the drafting committee. It was hoped to reach a final adjustment at today's sitting.

If this hope is realized it may be possible to submit the plan to a plenary session of the peace conference on Friday.

In a written reply to a delegation of the French Association of the Society of Nations which recently called upon him, President Wilson makes known formally for the first time his intention to return to France after going to Washington for the closing session of the American Congress. In this reply the President says that he accepts the suggestion that after his return to Paris a great public meeting be arranged in celebration of the conclusion of the peace conference.

Arrangements have been completed for President Wilson's prospective departure from Paris Friday night and his embarkation from Brest on Saturday. It is known he plans to return to France on March 15.

There now is belief in official circles the peace conference will be able to complete its work by June 1.

It is the general impression that the drafting committee was charged with the extremely important and delicate task of reconciling divergent views by the French and American members of the commission respecting the maintenance of an international army to enforce the principles of the society of nations.

In the fact the drafting committee was engaged largely in clarifying some of the language in the draft plan not connected with the international army project. This project is still before the special commission as unfinished. It is the opinion of individual members that it will not be as serious an obstacle to the completion of the great project as it was feared it might be.

Leon Bourgeois, French delegate, who introduced the amendment for an international military force in the league of nations project, had a prolonged conference Tuesday night with Oscar Straussen, former American Ambassador to Turkey, who is chairman of the delegation of the League to Enforce Peace at the peace conference.

Strauss said: "I am satisfied that all differences will be adjusted and a full agreement reached on the draft of the league."

Denial by Lord Cecil. Lord Robert Cecil, the British representative on the League of Nations Commission, emphatically denied the report spread in Paris that the commission had approved the creation of an immediate international army and that the United States and Great Britain had conceded a point to France. Lord Robert said that in his opinion the commission would decline moreover to approve any such plan. He added that such a report must have originated from an enemy of the peace conference.

The commission, says the Temps, will probably be able to submit to the council of the Powers the definite text of its project before President Wilson's departure.

"In its present form," continues the paper, "the project involves nations, members of the league, making a definite engagement to take up arms for the maintenance of their territories and the safeguarding of international treaties. It would seem that the conception has been discarded whereby the league becomes a superstate in favor of insistence on the necessity of close mutual obligations furnishing guarantees for the independence of each nation more efficient than the old systems of alliances."

CREATORE'S CONDUCTING IS SPECTACLE IN ITSELF

Former Bandmaster Leads Spirited Company in Vehement Production of "Aida."

BY RICHARD L. STOKES.

THE few hundreds of irrepressible spirits who ventured out to the Odeon last night to hear the Creator Grand Opera Company make its local debut with Verdi's "Aida," experienced a lively surprise if they had in their hearts anticipated the usual mediocre performance of the average barnstorming troupe. It is true that the orchestra numbered only 22; that the chorus of about 30 left much to be desired in singing, attractiveness and stage training; that two of the principal roles were taken by relatively inexperienced newcomers in opera; that the corps de ballet mustered all of eight purported dancers, and that the scenic investment was on a very modest scale. Yet, with such limited resources the company proved itself capable of a production that was remarkably vehement, often powerful and always creditable.

What need to say that this unexpected success was due pre-eminently to the blazing personality of Giuseppe Creatore, long familiar here as a bandmaster of the intense and temperamental school, and now making his first bow in this city as an operatic conductor? As all may easily guess who have seen him tossing a raven mane over his head or bounding down from his stand in the midst of a composition to brandish his baton over the drums at the rear, his directing was an evening's entertainment in itself.

It may be that many failed to see him crouch beneath the music stand and then erupt above it to mark some climax; or point a quivering forefinger to indicate every cue for singer or instrumentalist; or burst into such menacing gesticulations that those sitting near by hastily changed to faces beyond his range. It may be that there was a certain comedy in watching him quell, with palms flattened downward and motions like a swimmer treading water, his violoncello section, whenever that individual seemed threatening to rise as one man to an obstreperous fortissimo; or in beholding him lead his four or five violins to the charge upon some crescendo with as much pride and élan as if he had had a brigade of fiddles at his back.

Set's Entire Production After.

These extravaganzas, however, were but the outward manifestations of a sincere and passionate concentration upon the music in hand. The ardor of the conductor was contagious to the last percussion pounder in the orchestra, to the last basso in the rear rank of the chorus. His spirit permeated the entire production and set everything afire; the opera went with a speed, a high tension of drama, a unanimous zeal, that were exhilarating to a degree. One was especially struck with Creatore's wonder-working power over his principal singers. Take Louise Darclee, for instance, who sang the role of Aida. A few years since she sang here with the San Carlo Opera Co., without attracting particular notice. Last night she was a creature transformed, acting fiercely the love, jealousy and tragedy of the Ethiopian Princess, putting into her voice the passion and seduction of the role. Her very effective portrayal of the heroine was the more striking in that her voice was not always pleasing, betraying at times a sharp, knife-like edge, though charming when used softly and vibrant in its resonant top notes.

Or take Riccardo Martin, the once famous tenor, whom for some years the public has been inclined to consider passe. He seemed to have undergone a rejuvenation, and was in admirable form in the part of Rhamnes, pealing out the heroic arias of the Egyptian generalissimo with youthful power and sonority.

On most arresting of all, consider Creatore's two tyro singers in opera, and the way in which they carried off the honors from the veterans. One was Miss Jeanne Gordon, a statuesque Canadian girl, with a mezzo-soprano at once luscious and powerful. She had never sung in opera until this season, but can already demonstrate abilities as an emotional actress in the great part of Amneris which promise an unusual career.

Evans a Remarkable "Find." And finally cast a glance at Greek Evans, young American baritone, who was easily the sensation of the performance. Last summer Creatore found him singing in a moving picture theatre in New York. He had either had an excellent teacher or had discovered an admirable vocal method for himself. The impresario took him into his company and has been teaching him repertory on the road. In the second act, the audience saw this young man of athletic frame bound into the scene with his wrists chained, his eyes sparkling with fury and his body tense with defiance—the very picture of the captive savage, Amonasso. A moment later, without the least effort, he unleashed a voice capable almost of swamping the entire ensemble of voices and instruments—a voice that at times, such was its richness and giant dimensions, inevitably recalled Tita Ruffo himself. Such an organ is a gift of nature, but who except Creatore can be responsible for the expressiveness with which the singer used it, or for the transports of barbarous rage with which he acted the part of the defeated monarch?

Other roles were taken competently enough by Alfredo Valenti as Ramfis, Virgilio Watt as King of Egypt, and Amaldi Baldi as a messenger. All in all, if last night's standard is maintained, the company deserves a largely increased patronage during the week. Tonight's offering will be the Verdi's "Rigoletto," with Mary Carson as Gilda, Henriette Wakefield as Maddalena, Salvatore Scleretti as the Duke, and Giorgio Patti in the name part.

REGISTRATION TODAY LAST BEFORE ELECTION

Men Discharged From Army or Navy Must Enroll to Vote in April.

The registration of voters, which is in progress today at all the 500 precinct polling places, is the only registration which will take place before the election of members of the Board of Aldermen, April 1, at which election it is also possible that the question of recalling Mayor Kiel may be voted upon. The polling places will be open until 10 o'clock tonight.

Voters who still live at the places from which they were registered for last fall's election do not need to register today. Those who have moved, or who have been in the military or naval service and have been discharged, must register today, in order to vote at the primary of March 7 and the election of April 1.

Soldiers Must Register. Members of the Election Board today emphasized the fact that there will be no opportunity later for the registration of those who neglect the matter today. A voter who is out of the city today, or who is sick, may apply for registration at the board's office, March 26, but one who is in the city today, and is under a physician's care will not have that privilege.

Soldiers, sailors and marines still in service cannot vote, under the Missouri law, hence cannot register. Those who have been discharged from the service can register, and all such will have to register now, and not depend on a previous registration. The reason for this is that, when the lists were revised last fall, the names of all who were found to be in military and naval service were stricken off. Those drafted since that time have also been stricken from the books.

Election of Aldermen. Those who were not of voting age at the time of last fall's election, but who are now of age, can register today.

Candidates for President of the Board of Aldermen and for Aldermen from the evenly numbered wards will be chosen at the primary and voted upon at the April 1 election. There now are 158,365 names on the registration lists.

It is expected that about 10,000 persons will register today, though the registration lists will not be increased by that number, for almost an equal number will be scratched off.

The cost of the registration, and of the revision and canvass which follow it, will be about $45,000.

ST. LOUIS FAR BEHIND ITS QUOTA IN "NEAR EAST" DRIVE

Progress Being Made by Solicitors for Armenian and Syrian Relief Fund.

Progress was reported today in the collection of funds for the relief of suffering Armenians and Syrians, but it was announced that St. Louis is still far behind its quota of $450,000. An effort is being made to collect $30,000,000 in the United States.

In the interest of the fund, Haig Gudenian, a violinist, will give a recital at the Wednesday Club this afternoon. An address also will be made there by Mrs. Bertha Papazian, who will tell of conditions in the near East.

Mrs. J. E. Burgess collected $117.54 at the American Hotel yesterday. Mrs. Hector Pamezoglu collected $172.50 and the Kirkwood Tuesday Club contributed $63.93.

Dutch Steamer Sunk by Mine. By the Associated Press, Feb. 13.—The Dutch steamer Risk, Rotterdam to Bergen, struck a mine and sunk three miles off the Norwegian coast Wednesday. The crew was saved and was landed at Christianstad.

A CHILD DOESN'T LAUGH AND PLAY WHEN CONSTIPATED

Look, mother! Is tongue coated, breath feverish and stomach sour?

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels.

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign its little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, doesn't eat, sleep or act naturally, has stomach ache, diarrhoea, remember a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals "California Syrup of Figs" for children's ills; give a teaspoonful and in a few hours all the waste, bile and fermenting food passes out of the system, and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious "fruit laxative," and it never fails to effect a good "inside" cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages and grownups are plainly on the bottle.

Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."—ADV.

FURTHER INQUIRY INTO COMPLAINTS AGAINST WITHERS

Board of Education Committee to Investigate Why Boy's Diploma Was Withheld Nearly Two Years.

The committee on instruction of the Board of Education will take up, at its next meeting, Feb. 26, the complaint made against Dr. John W. Withers, Superintendent of Instruction, by Samuel Boyarski of 3521 Junata street, as to the delay of nearly two years in awarding a diploma to his son, Maurice Boyarski of the class of 1917 at Grover Cleveland High School; and the charge of discrimination made by Miss Cornelia Brossard, teacher of French in Soldan High School, against Principal John R. Powell.

The Brossard-Powell case is considered as involving the superintendent also, for the reason that Dr. Withers has approved the action of Principal Powell in giving Miss Brossard grades which resulted in her failure to obtain a promotion last June.

As was told in yesterday's Post-Dispatch, the seven members of the Board who voted Tuesday night to overrule Dr. Withers' action in his controversy with Principal Miller of McKinley High School, over a measure of moral discipline taken by Miller, met after the board meeting and discussed whether the board should take up other controversies, with a view to determining whether Dr. Withers should be retained as superintendent. These seven comprise a majority of the board, which has 12 members.

Resignation Not Involved.

Dr. Withers said, at Tuesday night's meeting, that if he was not competent to handle the question in the Miller case, he was "penalized" for the part which he took in causing the resignation of a man teacher, of whose acts some of the girl pupils had complained. The principal says Miss Brossard, in his opinion, did not at once bring the complaints to his attention, but repeated them to other teachers, and that she talked unnecessarily about the case after it was settled by the resignation of the offending teacher.

Judgment Questioned.

"I am frank to say," Powell continued, "that I could not help calling in question her judgment, discernment and dependability to get with wisdom in a critical situation. Beyond calling in question her judgment and propriety in not treating the matter as an executive case, wholly in the hands of the school administrators, I am sure that I have not allowed the unpleasant case and its aftermath to have undue weight with me. However, it is but fair to say that, in one of the most trying situations that has arisen in the history of the school, this teacher, upon whom I had formerly relied because of her wholesome influence on pupils, not only was of no help but contributed to the difficulties of the situation by a lack of executive insight and propriety."

He then stated that, for the year in question, he had marked Miss Brossard "plus" on the points of personality and equipment, and "average" on the points of teaching efficiency and executive capacity. The "average" markings caused her to fall of promotion on the payroll.

Powell added that he believed Miss Brossard would regain her former rank in class work, "when she has opportunity to regain her poise and sense of perspective, and to realize that her strength should be spent primarily upon class work."

He adds that the year was a hard one for her, as well as for others, and that he did not expect her to be able to take his view of the situation "until she has regained her composure."

Supt. Withers last evening gave out a statement of his attitude toward the action of the board majority in upholding Principal Miller. The superintendent reiterated his former statement that he had made a study of moral issues, such as those involved in the case of discipline at McKinley High, and declaring that Miller's statements "reflected seriously on the moral life of the student body" at the school.

Private Watchman Acquitted.

Policeman Tried for Same Offense Was Found Guilty.

John F. Abbott, formerly a private watchman for the American Railway Express Co., was acquitted by a jury yesterday of the charge of stealing $50 worth of merchandise from a warehouse at Tenth street and Franklin avenue, Oct. 17.

Calvin H. Reed, formerly a policeman, who was charged jointly with Abbott, but who was tried separately last week, was found guilty and fined $100. He appealed.

Thin People Should Take Phosphate.

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive, and is sold by Judge & Dolph, Enderle Drug Stores, Johnson Bros. Drug Co., Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back.

By feeding the nerves directly and supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food element, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance and increase in weight frequently being attained.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear. The eyes become bright and the cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

NEW STATE INCOME AND INHERITANCE BILL

Senator Bowker Believes Missouri Is Not Collecting Within 60 Per Cent of Tax Due.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 13.—Preparation of the more important bills designed to carry out Gov. Gardner's plan for a separation of the sources of State and local revenues and the collection of all State taxes by indirect means, has been found by Senator Bowker, chairman of the Senate Ways and Means Committee, to require complete rewriting of the State inheritance tax and income tax laws.

Senator Bowker said today that the laws were in such incomplete shape that the State undoubtedly was losing from 60 to 75 per cent of the money it should collect under them through the failure of the last Legislature, which enacted them, to provide adequate machinery for their administration.

Inheritance Tax Lead.
The inheritance tax, in the 18 months of the last biennial period during which it was in operation, yielded $73,038.74 and the income tax law yielded $201,885.86. The Senator expressed the opinion that these amounts would have been doubled if proper administration of the measures had been provided.

From the form the new measures are taking it appears probable that Gov. Gardner's original idea of retaining in existence the State Tax Commission to handle the collection of State revenues will be abandoned and the entire administration of the collection of State taxes placed directly in the control of the State Board of Equalization, which is to be provided with an office force of sufficient size to handle the business, which will be directed by a secretary at a salary of probably $4,000 a year. This secretary will be appointed by and responsible to the State Board of Equalization.

Increase of 25 Per Cent.
The inheritance tax bill will provide for an increase of schedules by approximately 25 per cent. The tax on inheritances is levied through an intricate and involved system which the idea is for the tax rate to increase as the degree of relationship of the legatee to the testator becomes more distant. If Senator Bowker's idea that the tax during the last 18 months would be approximately doubled under careful enforcement of the law, the new law might be expected to yield approximately $1,300,000 a year. Senator Bowker said that under the present operation of the inheritance tax, beneficiaries under a will usually were permitted to choose the appraiser of the estate and that it was not infrequent that the appraisal was made as low as 15 or 20 per cent of the value. Because no officer was charged with the duty of checking up the appraisal, the tax was collected on only a small portion of the value of the estate.

Considering District Plan.
Bowker is considering a plan to divide the State into districts with an appraiser for each. It will be the duty of these appraisers to value all estates for the purposes of the inheritance tax.

A somewhat similar condition exists as to the income tax law. No adequate machinery is provided for determining whether an individual is liable for the income tax, and it largely is left to the honesty of the individual as to whether he will make a return.

The new law is to be so framed that the income tax collection department of the State will receive from the Federal Government the names of all persons in the State who pay an income tax and the amount on which they pay. This will enable the State to assess and penalize those who fail to make returns.

Income Tax Increase.
The income tax is to be increased from 1 per cent to 2 per cent, and the exemption limit is to be lowered so that the tax will be assessed on all incomes of unmarried persons above $1,000 a year and on all heads of families above $2,000 a year. Under the present law, an unmarried person has an exemption of $2,000 a year and a head of a family an exemption of $4,000.

Senator Bowker said that he would have the principal bills ready for consideration by his committee in a few days, and that work would proceed rapidly on the changes to increase the corporation tax from 75 cents on the $1,000 of capital and surplus, to $1.25, to increase the cost of drink tax, to provide a tax on slot machines and to get a satisfactory mortgage recording tax law.

Efforts of opponents to the Governor's plan to create the impression among members of the Legislature that it is a beginning toward single tax are causing attaches of the Governor's office considerable concern. Rural members shy far away from any suggestion of single tax, and in answer to that line of opposition, the administration is pointing out to them that as far as the proposed plan is directly opposite to single tax, which they say is a tax solely on land values, while the Governor's plan proposes to abolish all State taxes on land and personal property.

VISCOUNT BRYCE WOULD HAVE U. S. AS ARMENIAN MANDATORY

By the Associated Press. LONDON, Feb. 12.—Viscount Bryce, former British Ambassador to the United States, speaking yesterday at the Lincoln's birthday luncheon of the English Speaking Union and the Atlantic Union, two Anglo-American societies which recently consolidated, expressed the hearty gratitude of Great Britain to America both for aid in winning the war and for the moral support given the cause of the allies. "There is one great service more she may render freedom and humanity," he said, "in the reconstruction of a better world which is being attempted by the Paris conference. Some of the liberated peoples are not yet able to stand alone, but need the help of a civilized power during a limited period to start them on the path of peace and progress. Such a case is that of Armenia."

The American people, Lord Bryce added, "already have done much for the East by schools, colleges and hospitals they have founded." He continued, "America is especially fitted for the task because she stands apart from the jealousies of the European Powers and none could suspect her of seeking dominion for herself. If it were proposed to America and she would undertake this disinterested duty which would confer incalculable benefits on an ancient, industrious and energetic people by giving them the aid and guidance for the first years of restored national life, the British friends of Armenia would rejoice."

Pershing Going to Coblenz. COBLENZ, Feb. 12.—Gen. Pershing will arrive at Coblenz Saturday for a visit of several days. He will review the Thirty-second and Forty-second Divisions, which, according to plans will be the first two divisions to start homeward, possibly by way of the Rhine. No date has been set for the departure.

SUFFRAGE BILL ENGROSSED IN STATE SENATE

Women's Limited Ballot Measure Gains Victory in Upper Body Following Passage in House.

ATTEMPT TO REFER TO PEOPLE BEATEN

Favorable Action Then Taken on Measure by a Vote of 17 to 12; Ready for Final Test.

By a Staff Correspondent of the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 12.—Women's suffrage in presidential and municipal elections made a decided gain in the Missouri Legislature today, when the Senate voted down an amendment by Senator Gardner of St. Louis county to make suffrage ineffective until approved on a referendum vote of the qualified voters of the State. Defeat of the amendment, which would have killed the bill, was followed by the engrossment of the measure by a vote of 17 to 12.

The House yesterday afternoon passed a duplicate of the Senate bill, which will be substituted in the Senate for the bill engrossed today, and thus will immediately be on the Senate calendar for third reading and final passage.

When Senator McKnight called the measure from the informal engrossment calendar this morning, Senator Gray of Jasper county offered an amendment, which was adopted, providing for separate ballots for men and women voters.

Fight on Bill Develops. The real fight on the bill then developed, when Senator Gardner offered an amendment for a referendum on suffrage at the general election in 1920. In the meantime, the bill would not be in effect.

Senators McKnight, Gray and McClintic declared the amendment was a deliberate attempt to kill the bill and prevent women from having the vote. McClintic said it was a subterfuge offered to defeat the bill under cover.

All of the St. Louis Senators voted for the referendum but the amendment was lost by a vote of 13 ayes and 16 noes. Senator Mayes, who voted for the referendum, voted for engrossment, while the others who were for the referendum voted against engrossment.

The vote in the House yesterday on the final passage of the bill was 122 to 8.

St. Louisian Opposes Suffrage. House action was taken yesterday after three hours of debate, in which Representative Bailey of Jasper County, Speaker O'Fallon, Representative Farris of Phelps County, Representative Powell of Stone County and many others spoke in favor of it. The only voice raised on the floor against suffrage was that of Representative Comer of St. Louis.

Speaker O'Fallon spoke from the floor for nearly two hours. Farris, who, in other sessions, has led the opposition to suffrage, spoke in unqualified indorsement of it, saying that he had learned that times had changed since he formed his opinions and prejudices a quarter of a century ago, and that he believed it proper for women to vote and believed they were as fully competent as men.

St. Louis members of the House voted as follows: Ayes—Chaney, Rabenber, Brinkman, Razovsky, Wagner, Rittner, O'Brien, Hosner, McPherson, Caulfield, Parker—11. Noes—Weber, Comer—2. Absent—Davidson, Eigel, Trisler—3.

Votes Against the Vote. The eight votes against suffrage were: Comer of St. Louis, Hege of St. Louis county, Houck of Cape Girardeau, Meeker of Perry, Moss of Jefferson, Parr of St. Charles, Shepard of Jackson, and Weber of St. Louis.

INTERNATIONAL SUFFRAGISTS DEMAND FULL EQUALITY

Want Married Women to Retain Own Nationality and Make Moral Standard Same for Both Sexes.

By the Associated Press. PARIS, Feb. 12.—The International Women's Suffrage conference adopted a resolution yesterday declaring that conference desires that the franchise be granted to the women of all countries on the same basis as men; that married women shall not be deprived of their nationality without their consent; that existing inequalities between men and women shall be removed.

The resolution also makes the demand that all offices and employment shall be open for women with equal pay for work done independent of sex and that the moral standard shall be equal for both sexes.

To Modify Dining Car Rules. By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—War-time restrictions on railroad dining car service will be modified March 1. Director-General Hines today authorized Federal managers of all lines to resume a car service wherever it could be done without causing congestion. On trains where table d'hôte service is continued not more than five courses may be served, the cost to be $1.25 and the meal to be made worth the price.

DECLARES THAT CRITICISM OF FRENCH IS PROPAGANDA

Maj. Barngrave Says Its Purpose Is to Disparage France and Britain for Germany's Benefit.

Maj. James L. Barngrave of the 110th Ammunition Train, Thirty-fifth Division, speaking yesterday before the Chamber of Commerce members' conference luncheon at the Hotel Statler, discussed the relation of American soldiers to the French people.

He said he had heard criticism of the treatment of the American soldiers by the French, but that he had no such criticism to make, and he considered that such criticism should be treated as propaganda. He compared such complaints to the false stories that the French were charging the American army rent for trenches it occupied, and for burial places for the American dead.

As to overcharges, he said that any overcharges which the American soldiers encountered in France were mild compared with those which they have had to endure in this country. "Some of our soldiers," he said, "did not seem to have any idea of the value of the smaller units of French money, and would pay, of their own accord, twice what an article was worth, and would not wait for their change. This was an invitation to overcharge. When one is overcharged in France it is at least done in a polite and courteous manner, which is more than can be said of those who overcharge customers in this country."

"The motive of this propaganda," he said, "is to disparage France and England, and to make it appear that Germany is more like the United States. As an American, I object to anyone saying that Germany is like this country. The Germans are claiming now that their army was not defeated. Why did it surrender unconditionally? Why did Germany's navy surrender disgracefully, when even the Spaniards at Santiago came out and fought? No nation was ever whipped more completely than Germany has been."

One Woman to Another
By Thelma Norden

Five or six months ago when Mabel first served me I noticed she had body odors. Every now and then she smothered them with perfume. I like Mabel, so I decided to give her the benefit of my experience.

"I used to suffer in just the same way," I said when she had admitted she had odors and didn't know how to get rid of them. "You should use Amolin."

Mabel did use Amolin. A few days later she came up to me and said: "Miss Norden, I want to thank you for telling me about Amolin. It has killed the body odors. I feel so different and I know I shall keep that way."

Amolin certainly proved a great relief to Mabel. It's a relief to many women. Use Amolin and you can always be sure of being above suspicion of odors from perspiration or any other cause.

I use Amolin every day—just as regu-larly as I use face powder. It's really indispensable. It's a personal deodorant and it's a body perfume. Amolin is highly antiseptic with wonder-ful healing and soothing qualities. All drug and department stores sell it for 25c a 2-oz. can, 50c a 4-oz. can. The Amolin Co., Ltd., N. Y. City, will send you a free sample on request.

For women who care about the per-sonal cleanliness, Amolin is essential. It's an all-around toilet requisite. And it has so many intimate uses—ADV.

AMERICAN OFFICER WITH SERBS TELS OF BULGARIAN ATROCITIES

Lieut. J. Coleman Drayton Back, describes Way Enemy Tortured Civilians During War.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Wednesday, Feb. 12.—

Lieut. J. Coleman Drayton of the Serbian artillery, who four times was rejected by United States army examiners for physical disability, and who is a son of J. Coleman Drayton of New York, a member of the Inter-Ally Commission on Bulgarian Atrocities, arrived in Paris today.

Lieut. Drayton described tortures inflicted by the Bulgarians on the Serbian civil population. Aged women, he declared, were branded with red-hot irons while in one Serbian county the whole population was crippled by the Bulgars in a systematic reign of terror. The Bulgars, according to Lieut. Drayton, destroyed numerous villages and towns outside the war zones.

TULSA, Ok., Feb. 12.—Lillie Carter, Mrs. W. C. Weller and Mrs. E. P. Ferguson sawed the bars of the local jail and gained their freedom. The saws, a crowbar and a hammer were found in their cell. They slid down a water spout from the window.

NEARLY 700 GIRLS SIT AT "VICTORY SUPPER"

Represented the Federation of Clubs and the Young Women's Christian Association.

Nearly 700 girls of the Federation of Girls' Clubs of the Young Women's Christian Association, comprising 21 groups from nearly every industry in St. Louis, attended a "victory supper" last night in the association gymnasium, 1411 Locust street, and in addition to the entertainment features, elected officers and received 250 new members.

A novel feature of the election was the lighting of candles presented to the newly-elected officers from the flames of candles of the outgoing leaders, thus carrying on the torch of service to the ensuing year.

The new officers are: President, Anna Hahn of the O. H. Club; vice president, Theresa Repetto, F. F. Club; recording secretary, Mabel K. Club; secretary, Birdie Huber, Wokum Club; treasurer, Ora Stephan, Blue Triangle Club.

Mrs. J. J. Fisher, president of the association, welcomed the girls, and Mrs. D. S. Brown, chairman of the South Central Field Committee, spoke on the responsibilities of the future womanhood of America. Mrs. Douglas Stanley, leader of the Friday Night Club, praised the girls' work in the institution.

The entertainment consisted of dancing by Polish girls in native costume, and songs, recitations and "stunts" by girls from all the groups. Miss Kate Kendig, industrial secretary, assisted by Mrs. Ashley Caball, Mrs. Guy Blackner and Miss Sarah Duke, made arrangements for the affair and directed the program.

FARMERS WANT AGRICULTURAL BODY AS PART OF WORLD LEAGUE

Representative to Sail for France Saturday to Put Plan Before Peace Conference.

By the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—A program embodying inclusion in the league of nations of a special body to deal with international agricultural questions was adopted at the closing session of the semi-annual conference here of the National Board of Farm Organizations.

Questions which this special body could consider under the plan of the national board would include uniform crop reporting, equality of pay and other conditions for the farmer, as compared with workers in other occupations, collective bargaining through organizations, gradual abolition of farm tenancy on the theory that no land should be held permanently for renting; preservation of natural resources and the right of nations to withhold from export essential agricultural supplies where the amount held by a country is limited.

Charles Barrett of Georgia, president of the National Farmers' Union, was directed to sail for France Saturday to present the program at Paris. The conference also adopted resolutions favoring the formation of a league of nations and ordered copies sent to President Wilson, Vice President Marshall and former President Taft as head of the League to Enforce Peace.

DRINK HOT WATER BEFORE BREAKFAST

Says you really feel clean, sweet and fresh inside, and are seldom ill.

If you are accustomed to wake up with a coated tongue, foul breath or a dull, dizzy headache; or, if your meals sour and turn into gas and acids, you have a real surprise awaiting you.

Tomorrow morning, immediately upon arising, drink a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This is intended to first neutralize an then wash out of your stomach, liver, kidneys and intestines all the indigestible waste, poisons, sour bile and toxins, thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal.

Those subject to sick headaches, backache, bilious attacks, constipation or any form of stomach trouble, are urged to get a quarter pound of limestone phosphate from the drug store and begin enjoying this morning inside-bath! It is said that men and women who try this become enthusiastic and keep it up daily. It is a splendid health measure for it is more important to keep clean and pure on the inside than on the outside, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing disease, while the bowel pores do.

The principle of bathing inside is not new, as millions of people practice it. Just as hot water and soap cleanse, purify and freshen the skin, so hot water and a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Limestone phosphate is an inexpensive white powder and almost tasteless.

NEGROES WHO 'FOUGHT LIKE TIGERS' RETURN

Commander Proud of His Men: Hero of Regiment Tells of Routing Enemy Snipers.

By the Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The transport Stockholm, which arrived here yesterday from Brest with 2084 American troops, had on board part of the 369th Infantry (the old Fifteenth New York National Guard negro regiment). Col. William Hayward, commanding the 369th, said: "I am proud of my men. It certainly is a great feeling to be part of an organization of fighters, which, in addition to having 191 of its members cited for valorous deeds performed in action, was also decorated as a unit. Our colored fighters cared less for shell fire than any white man that ever breathed."

"At one period we were under shell fire for 191 days," he continued. "It was hell, but those boys fought like tigers. We held one trench for 91 days without relief and were raided every night, but we captured large numbers of prisoners. Through the magnanimity of the French, ours was the first unit of allied fighters to reach the Rhine. We went down as an advance guard of the French army of occupation."

Health conditions at Brest, port of embarkation, were referred to by Col. Hayward. "We had been free from sickness until we reached Brest, where, in three weeks, we lost more men than during all the months in the field," he said.

Sergeant Henry Johnson, whose exploits were cubed by correspondents and whom Col. Hayward referred to as the regiment's hero, returned with the Croix de Guerre with one star and one palm. He routed a party of German snipers at Bois-Hanzy, in the Argonne, on May 5, when he is credited with having killed four of the enemy and wounded 32 others. (This occurred when these troops were attached to a French division and before the big battle of the Argonne Forest, in which American units participated.) Describing his experience, he said:

"After several of my comrades had fallen and I had run out of ammunition, I began to bat a group of Germans over the head with the butt of my rifle and then I ripped into them with my French bolo knife. Finally one German got me around the shoulders and threw me. We fought for a half hour. I was shot in two or three places, cut on the hip and bayoneted in the legs."

Johnson wears a silver plate in his foot.

"On Sept. 26 we were opposing the strongest point of the Hindenburg line at Champagne," said Col. Hayward, "but we took it, with heavy losses, however. We then went to the Vosges and advanced until the armistice was signed, when we were selected by the French to lead their army to the Rhine. We arrived there Nov. 18. We took over the civil administration in four towns and in one of them I occupied the office of the Mayor. We parted company with the 161st French division on Dec. 13 near Elfsheim. Gen. Le Boeuf pinned the Croix de Guerre in our state flags."

45 DAYS EXTRA FOR REVISING CORPORATION TAX RETURNS

Firms Must File Statement by March 15, but Will be Allowed Time for Verification.

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—Although no general extension of time for filing income tax returns will be authorized, Commissioner Roper announced last night that corporations which cannot complete returns by March 15 will be permitted to return the estimated tax and make a revised return within 45 days.

Tax payers will not be relieved of interest on such amount, as a payment may fall short of the tax found later to be due. If the installment due March 15 is greater than shown by the complete return the excess will be credited to the next payment.

Provision for systematically handling this new feature will be made in the construction of the new return blanks for corporations. A statement in writing of the reasons why it is impossible for the corporation to complete the return by the specified date must accompany every such return.

Individual tax payers will be given similar privileges, but no reason exists, according to the internal revenue officials, for delaying the filing of the returns of individual incomes except in unusually difficult cases.

Forms for return of individual incomes up to $5000 will be distributed by collectors within a few days. Forms for larger incomes will be available about Feb. 24. Corporation blanks will be distributed by March 1. Regulations governing the administration of the new income tax will be available before March 1.

"Be Pleasant to Live With" if You Would of a Certainty Be Happy Though Married

By DOROTHY DIX.

MY DEAR," said an old woman to a bride, "there is just one genuine, reliable, blown-in-the-glass, follow-this-rule-and-you-can-not fail for retaining a husband's affection and making matrimony a grand sweet song, and it is this—be pleasant to live with. All other advice on the subject is buncombe.

"As a rule, wives pin their faith to one of two theories. They either do for doing their duty as wives, or for keeping young and beautiful. Neither scheme works.

"No man ever fell in love with a woman for her virtues, or kept in with her because she continued to practice them. Furthermore, no man can do her full duty toward her husband without making him hate her. No other human being is so irritating as a paragon, and no woman takes a shorter cut to the divorce court than to enter into matrimony with the settled determination to run her husband and her home on the higher life schedule.

"For a woman to expect to keep her husband in love with her by being young and beautiful is to waste the waste line of 20 is to waste time. Time, work and worry are bound to rob the cheek of its bloom and the hair of its gold or to turn the figure into a feather bed or a skeleton.

"No matter how frantically a woman holds on to her youth, or how artfully she seeks to camouflage its loss, there is bound to be the inevitable hour when she is forced to face the fact that she is no longer a good looking, but a haggard.

"There is she then if her only reliance is on her husband's love. She is doomed for the scrap heap, for being married doesn't give a man's eye, and he is bound to see that every young girl who crossed his path is a living warning that puts his wife into the same class.

"But it is far otherwise with her who has the sense to surround her husband with love and admiration. She does not care whether she is fat or thin, old or young, rich or poor, so long as she is interesting and agreeable, and makes home the pleasantest spot on earth to him.

"Just as the cold cream jar, but a warm heart and hearty thankings are a husband's love. It isn't manicured hands, but the glad smile of a man who wants to hold, and the one thing on earth he most values is the smile of a woman who spends more time in reducing his nagging and fault finding, and in reducing their hips, we find less of men who had their wives and strayed off affections.

Since his arrival in New York he had fallen into the habit of seeking the view from his window when in meditative humor. The vast sweep of gullied roofs exerted an almost hypnotic attraction for his eyes. They made him feel that he was looking at the city of the future, little dreaming that he would immediately answer, "What will it cost—your next production?"

"The show I have in mind"—Max considered a moment then announced positively, "between $15,000 and $20,000."

"I call that big gambling," "Gambling? Oh, that's just part of the game. I meant a side bet. If the production flounders, I'll need that 30 cents for coffee and sinners at Dennett's. So I won't bet."

"But," he volunteered brightly, "I'll sell you a half interest in the show for $12,000."

"Is that a threat or a promise?" "I mean it," Max insisted seriously, "though I'll admit I am not sure about your accepting—yet. I've had several close calls with Sara—she's threatened to chuck the stage often before this; but every time something happened to make her change her mind. I've got a hunch maybe something will happen this time, too. If it does, I won't want any partners."

Whitaker laughed quietly and turned the conversation, accepting the manager's pseudo-confidences at their face value—that is, as pure bluff, quit consistent with the managerial pose.

They rose presently and made their way out into the crowded, blatant night of Broadway.

"We'll walk, if you don't mind," Max suggested. "It isn't far, and I'd like to get a line on the house as it goes in." He sighed affectedly. "Heaven knows when I'll see another swell audience mobbing one of my attractions!"

His companion raised no objection. This phase of the life of New York exerted an attraction for his imagination of unalloyed potency. They pushed forward slowly through the eddying tides, elbowed by a matchless motley of humanity, dazzled by its thousand tongues, dazzled to blindness by walls of living light. Whitaker experienced a sensation of participating in a royal progress: Max was plainly a man of mark; he left a wake of rippling interest. At every third step somebody hailed him, as a rule by his first name; generally he responded by a curt nod and a tightening of his teeth upon his cigar.

They turned east through Forty-sixth street, considered by a denser throng of faces, all turned in one direction, shone livid with the glare of a gigantic electric sign, midway down the block.

my management, and I don't expect to have any after she retires. I made her, all right, but she made me, too; and it sprains my sense of good business to break up a paying combination like that."

"Nonsequit," Whitaker contended warmly. "If I'm not mistaken, you were telling me this afternoon that you stand next to Delasco as a producing manager. The loss of one star isn't going to rob you of that prestige, is it?"

"You never can tell," the little man contended darkly; "I wouldn't bet 30 cents my next production would turn out a hit."

"What will it cost—your next production?" "The show I have in mind"—Max considered a moment then announced positively, "between $15,000 and $20,000."

BACHELOR GIRL'S REFLECTIONS.

"A FOOL there was, and he made his prayer"—to two women on the same party wire.

Of course a wife is a comfort to any man, if only as somebody to ask silly questions, so that he can spring bright epigrams in reply.

Next to the fond belief that real friendship can exist between a man and a woman without ending in love, perhaps the greatest popular delusion is that real love can exist between them without beginning friendship.

A man may laugh at your politics, your clothes, your conversation, and your religion, and still think you "a charming little woman"—but when he refers facetiously to your tears, as "unflitting," your reign is over. Moral: "Hooverize" your tears!

The man who married in order to escape the draft must feel terribly chagrined when he stops to think that the worst of the war is over for everybody else.

When a man says that he has "lived," he usually means that he has finished living—as far as his heart, his illusions and his sensations go.

Love is like inspiration; it comes in waves, and goes out with the "tied."

Call no woman miserable until that moment in which she suddenly wonders whether it's her beauty or her age that makes a man offer her his seat in a street car.

Nearly Ate Them.

A FUSSEY little man hurried into a Federal street restaurant and excitedly said to one of the waiters: "Where you here half an hour ago?"

"Yes," the waiter replied. "And did you wait on me?"

"I rather think I did."

"Well, I lost something when I was in here."

"What was it?"

"A half dozen small-sized disc records."

"Have them right here back of the counter for you, but they are a trifle mussy."

"Whadye mean, mussy?"

"You left them there on a plate and the next minute who came in poured syrup on them, thinking they were a stack of wheat."—Youngstown Telegram.

Fashion Brevities.

Umbrella handles are of colored snakewood with gold caps and hooks. Deep tassels of jet beads or steel beads are hung on the bottom of evening frocks—on the sides of the skirt, one on each side. They almost sweep the floor.

Raised head flowers are the decorative feature of one of the smartest of the new headed bags. The design is marked out in beads of different color from that of the background, and then the flowers of the design are raised by means, evidently, of a little padding.

Restraint.

SANDMAN STORY FOR TONIGHT

By Mrs. F. A. Walker.

Reddy Fox's New Year's Scheme. It was cold and had been a hard winter for the foxes in the wood where Reddy Fox lived, and food had been scarce. "If there were no others to go over the hill to the farms," thought Reddy, "I might get a stray hen or chicken, but there are too many of us, so no one gets enough to eat."

Reddy Fox sat a long time, thinking, when suddenly he jumped up and smiled. "Not a bad plan, if I can carry it out," he said.

Reddy took from a drawer a large sheet of paper and began to write. It was headed "New Year Resolutions," and under it, in smaller letters, were these words: "I will take care of myself."

"We, the undersigned, promise not to eat any chickens, hens or ducks or turkeys for six months."

Under this Reddy signed in big letters his name, and then he rolled up the paper, put it under his arm and started to call on all his relatives and friends.

"What I propose," he told them, "is that we live on vegetables. We can get plenty from Mr. Man's barn. Then the poultry will have a chance to grow and there will be no more hens and ducks and such that the farmer cannot take care of them, and at the end of six months we can have all we want."

Every one of the foxes was thinking just what Reddy Fox was thinking, only they did not know it; not then, at least; so they all said it was a good scheme and they would sign at once.

When he had all the names Reddy tucked the resolutions up on a tree where all of them could see it every day, "just to remind us if we happen to forget," he told them.

That night Reddy Fox put out his light early, and if he had noticed he would have seen that the lights in all the homes of his friends and relatives were put out about the same time.

There was no moon that night, so when all the foxes crept out of their back doors each one thought he was the only fellow out that night.

Over the hill they all went in different directions, each thinking he would catch a hen or something for his breakfast, as there was no other fox around to get ahead of him.

They hid behind trees and rocks, some behind old barns and under the old cart near the poultry house, was Reddy Fox, lying close to the ground.

It happened that they all waited till they were sure that Mr. Dog was asleep, and then, strange to say, all of them started out from their hiding places at the same time—all but Reddy. He was crawling out, but was still under cover of the cart when out from a cloud popped old Moon Man and shone full upon them.

There they all stood looking at each other in a very foolish manner. Each tried to say that he just came to make sure that the others were keeping their pledge, but it was plain that no one believed what the other one said.

Reddy Fox lay very still and listened, then he drew himself back under the cart and while they were all talking he ran off to the woods and was in bed before the others came back.

He was sleeping soundly when they passed his house, or they thought he was, for Reddy snored so, but as soon as he was sure they were all in their homes and in bed Reddy softly opened his door and went out.

When he returned he had his breakfast, and a good one it was, you may be sure. "It takes a rogue to catch one, I have heard," he said as he ate his fried chicken. "But I caught a whole pack of them last night. They have to get up early in the morning to catch Reddy Fox, though."

A Question of Taste.

ONE morning Mr. Smith was heard talking to himself while making his morning toilet in a manner that denoted much perturbation.

"I wonder," said Mrs. Smith, "what's provoked father now?"

"Oh, it's nothing much, mother," answered little William. "I just put a tube of Silvan's oil paints in place of his tube of tooth paste."—Tit-Bits.

A Wife, Indeed.

A MAN who had looked on the wine when it was red a great deal too often was induced to sign the pledge the other day. His wife was delighted.

"You must let me have it!" she cooed, taking the precious document. "I will keep it for you!"

On the next day the man was drinking again as freely as before. "How is this?" asked a friend. "You signed the pledge yesterday and now you are drinking again?"

"It's all right," replied the pledge signer in untidy tones. "I don't have to keep that pledge. My wife says she'll keep it for me. Hooray!"—London Answers.

Not Without Sails.

"WHAT'S the use of cussing so continuously?" "The darned auto won't go." "Well, you can't run it by lung power."—Brooklyn Citizen.

Looks Like Senator Brogan Ought to Be Able to Shoo in That Boxing Bill

MANAGER OF CUBS EXPECTED HERE TO SIGN HOLLOCHER

Fred Mitchell Reported on Way to St. Louis; Shortstop Is Holdout.

Trade gossip, involving the Cardinals, is again current here. While President Branch Rickey of the Knot Hitters is reported to have sold his abandoned hope for any further acquisitions of players, advice from Chicago, reaching here late yesterday, stated President-Manager Fred Mitchell of the Cubs was on his way to St. Louis to confer with Rickey. Mitchell was not registered at any of the downtown hotels here early today. Vice President Bill Veeck is said to be accompanying him.

To Confer With Hollocher. While the "Cub" officials undoubtedly would discuss trades with Rickey, it is believed in baseball circles here that Mitchell and Veeck are coming to St. Louis to confer with Charlie Hollocher, their star shortstop, who is holding out for a better contract than the one submitted him. Hollocher returned the contract to the club unsigned with the statement that he believed he was entitled to vastly more money than he was offered, though he admitted he was given an increase over last season. It is vital to the Cubs that they get Hollocher under contract and at a figure satisfactory to the local youngsters, since he led the pennant-winning Cubs in batting and was a small factor in putting Mitchell's club in the world's series.

Schofield Issues Appeal. Cardinal stockholders, who have not yet answered the appeal of secretary W. G. Schofield for assistance in clearing up the outstanding obligation of $10,000, have received another letter from Schofield, asking them to either subscribe for additional stock, or turn over their present holdings to the "select seventy" who hold the second mortgage on the club.

Schofield points out that if a foreclosure is instituted the men who failed to come to the rescue of the club will lose their holdings, or, in other words, their stock will become valueless. Hence, he says if they are still unwilling to assist in financing the Cardinals, they should be willing to turn over their stock to the 100 men who put up the money to carry the Knot Hitters through the near-disastrous 1918 season.

KIECKHEFER - DE ORO START TITLE MATCH CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—Charles Peterson of St. Louis, champion fancy billiard shot, arrived here today to referee the championship three-cushion match between Augie Kieckhefer of Chicago and Alfredo de Oro of New York, which will begin tonight. Blocks of 50 people will be played for three nights. It will be their third contest in three years and the second time within a year that the champion and De Oro have met in a title match.

Kieckhefer, since winning the championship from De Oro in February, 1918, has successfully defended his honors six times, defeating in succession Bob Canefax, Pierre Maupome, Charles Ota, Charles McCourt, Bob Canefax and Maupome. Should Kieckhefer win from De Oro in the match starting tonight, he will retain permanent possession of the title trophy for defending his laurels for one year.

JIMMY CONZELMAN IS BACK AT WASHINGTON James Conzelman has finally reached Washington University, and he is attending classes on the Pike-way campus. Two weeks ago Conzelman was expected, and when he failed to arrive, Washington athletic adherents became wary and thought that the freshman football star of 1917 had decided not to continue his studies. But now that he is in school, Washington is assured of having in 1919 a quarterback one of the cleverest field directors in the West.

During the past week no less than three other stars of recent years have returned to Washington from the service. Fred Fochach, Carl Kamp and Pete Pemberton are once again on the Maroon campus.

MEINHARDT AND GROSSE ROLL STEPPACHER-DUNNE Bob Meinhardt and Herman Grosse will meet John Steppacher and J. V. Dunne in the first half of a special 16-game total pins to count doubles match at Peterson's tonight. The quartet of bunnymen are rated among the best in the city. The final half of the match will be decided at the Washington Sunday afternoon.

Improvements.

Y. E. S. sir, the service is improving. Along the proper lines they're moving. The cars have all got brand-new hoppers. To catch the nickels and the coppers.

The flat wheel on the Page that pounded. Was put upon the lathe and rounded. No longer can we hear it banging. As from the brand-new straps we're hanging.

The company, despite slim pickins. Is spending money like the dickens. A brand-new frog at Fourth and Locust.

Will prove that we're not being hoaxed. The troubles on the Bella-fountain. No longer loom up like a mountain. The patrons to the straps are clinging.

The praises of the service singing. In ten more years it is expected. The mill tax will have been collected. The streets will flow with milk and honey.

When old St. Louis gets the money. The Mayor's wisdom we're not doubting. As from his shoulders wings are sprouting. But we will get an awful jolting. If ever Henry starts to moulting.

The stock that was so inflated. Its value had become inflated.

IN BOUT HERE MARCH 4

With the announcement that the Brogan boxing bill which would legalize 15-round boxing bouts in this State under the supervision of a commission, has been favorably reported by the House Committee to which it was referred, the fistie game here is in the midst of a sudden boom. Three clubs, Tommy Sullivan's Future City A. C., the South Broadway and the newly organized Rialto Athletic Club, have announced programs to be held within the brief space of three weeks.

Tommy Sullivan is using the pulpit of the Future City A. C. in the form of a bout between Harry Kane-koff, local featherweight, and Frankie Burns of Jersey City, a real top-notch in his class. This bout will be held at the Coliseum, Feb. 20, a week from tonight.

Rialto Show, March 4. Harry Morris, secretary of the Rialto Athletic Club, announced today that he has signed a contract with the Coliseum for March 4. The new club plans a bout between Pat Morris, former Great Lakes boy, who recently won a decision over Jimmy Wilde, the champion, and De Oro have met in a title match.

Kieckhefer, since winning the championship from De Oro in February, 1918, has successfully defended his honors six times, defeating in succession Bob Canefax, Pierre Maupome, Charles Ota, Charles McCourt, Bob Canefax and Maupome. DOUGLAS PARK RACING DATES TO BE CANCELLED

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 13.—Spring racing dates at Douglas Park will be cancelled and nine days added to the spring meeting at Churchill Downs, his sister track here, where both the Kentucky Handicap and the Derby will be run. This announcement was made by Charles F. Grainger, president of the new Louisville Jockey Club, who also said that at a conference here yesterday the proposed mitigation of race tracks in this city, Latonia and Lexington had been accomplished. The tracks, it was stated, had passed under control of a syndicate largely composed of Kentuckians.

MISSOURI FACES HARD SCHEDULE THIS WEEK

Valley Basket Ball Leaders Are Scheduled to Play Nebraska - Friday and Saturday.

The Missouri University basketball team, which at present is showing the way in the Missouri Valley Conference championship race with a record of six victories and no defeats, will play one of its most important series of the campaign this week, when Nebraska is tackled. Two games will be played in Lincoln, Friday and Saturday.

The Tigers and Aggies are being picked to fight it out for the championship, and it may go down to the final series of the season between this pair in Columbia, March 14 and 15, to decide the title winner. On the Kansas series, the Missourians have a little the better of it, having counted 80 points against 40 for the Jay-hawkers. In the Aggie series, Kansas counted 57 against 74.

Chicago Now in Lead. By defeating Purdue last night, 20-11, in a Big Ten championship game, Chicago went into the lead in the title race with a record of six straight victories. On a line through the Wisconsin game, the Gophers seem stronger, having beaten the Badgers, 28-11, while the Maroons gained a 12-10 victory.

The two quintets will not meet this season and Pat Pace, coach of the Maroons, has announced that there was no chance for a post-season game in case the pair were tied at the end of the season. On a line through the Wisconsin game, the Gophers seem stronger, having beaten the Badgers, 28-11, while the Maroons gained a 12-10 victory.

Langtry Turns Down EAST SIDE PIN STARS Bowlers from Granite City and other near-by Illinois cities will not be permitted to compete in the St. Louis city tennis tournaments—at least not for the time being. This word came from A. L. Langtry, secretary of the American Bowling Congress, in response to a request from the City Association that the tournaments be held in the city.

Langtry wrote that it would not be possible, but that the question could be taken up at the next meeting of the A. B. C., which will be staged in Toledo next month. Langtry also advised that the Granite City tennismen to form a city association.

However, W. Jones of Granite City, stated yesterday that no association of that kind would be formed "just to help out the A. B. C." as he termed it. Jones says that all the good Granite City bowlers would get out of a city association would be a trip to national tournaments.

Unless there is some local use in the association, Jones said, there would be no good in forming it.

Butch Reifless and Brelowe, a pair of Hope League stars, have hired a challenge at Jerry Ameling and Otto Stein for a special match, through Manager Miller of the Hope League. Miller says that the match can be arranged at any time.

Miller also is anxious to meet Friendly's southpaws in a return match, stating they were promised terms, and notified Morris by letter he will have Moore here for the bout.

Should any hitch over the date occur, Morris is prepared to change the date of the Hogan-Morris encounter to March 11. Morris claims the affair is costing the Rialto a nest sum of money since they are offered both boxers guarantee. With the option of a percentage.

The South Broadway A. C. will hold a boxing show at their club on the South Side next Tuesday, just two days before the strange arrangement for the Coliseum. Harry Uhlmeier, match maker for the Broadway organization, has Jimmy Murphy and Willie Coloma and Kid Bandy and Nick Kube in a double windup. The preliminaries have not yet been arranged.

DOUGLAS PARK RACING DATES TO BE CANCELLED LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 13.—Spring racing dates at Douglas Park will be cancelled and nine days added to the spring meeting at Churchill Downs, his sister track here, where both the Kentucky Handicap and the Derby will be run. This announcement was made by Charles F. Grainger, president of the new Louisville Jockey Club, who also said that at a conference here yesterday the proposed mitigation of race tracks in this city, Latonia and Lexington had been accomplished. The tracks, it was stated, had passed under control of a syndicate largely composed of Kentuckians.

R. DE PALMA SETS TWO NEW WORLD'S RECORDS DAYTONA, Fla., Feb. 13.—Driving an American car throughout a Packet and Special 12-cylinder aviation motor, Ralph de Palma yesterday set a new official world's record for the mile with flying start, on Daytona Beach. He made 149.72-100 miles per hour against the record speed of 147.72-100 miles per hour made by the course eight years ago by Bob Burman.

De Palma immediately announced that he would continue trials to set new records both ways on the track, so as to satisfy European standards. All trials including the record breaker are made under official surveillance of the A. A. A. Contest Board.

De Palma also broke the record for the kilometer's mile. He lowered the official time from 15.88-100 seconds to 15.86-100.

Hanlon Stops Reed. HOOT SPRINGS, Ark., Feb. 13.—Jack Reed of Australia lasted three rounds of a scheduled in-round bout here last night with Jimmy Hanlon of Denver. The men are lightweight.

Asleep at the Switch?

OPPORTUNITY has been pounding on the doors of St. Louis boxing fans and other interested parties; but said P. P.'s continue to pound their ears. Will they still slumber on while some live wire from Kansas City or St. Joe pulls the chestnuts out of the fire for them?

Opportunity is embodied in Senator Brogan's boxing bill, which last night was favorably reported by the committee, without local promoters having even lifted a voice, in Jefferson City councils. Talk of getting behind the Brogan bill and assisting it has progressed here as far as TALK only.

It is not yet too late for the clubs and pay-as-they-enter fans to rally and join hands with the workers from other sections of the State in an effort to legalize the boxing game. No opportunity like the present one is likely to present itself for many years. If this attempt fails, Missouri will remain under a boxing law that was designed in 1873 to meet conditions which existed when bare knuckles and go-as-you-please prize fights stained the chronicles of pugilism.

THE Brogan bill is fundamentally O. K. The St. Louisian who introduced the bill is not hidebound—he has said he would agree to an amendment to the bill concurring in a majority of advisers.

A State-wide agreement on the weak points of the measure should be reached before the bill is presented to the Legislature for a vote.

Features of the Brogan Bill. THE Brogan bill is identical with that brought up by the same Senator in 1917. At that time the bill made a belated entry into a Legislature crowded beyond its capacity with business. It was shelved. The
